POWER UNLEASHED

THE ENMOST POWER LINES

The wise men of the ancient world knew that perennial power for the world to live is that from the sun. No wonder the world prayed to the sun god to bestow them with his timely boon. Photovoltaic cell was a revolution of modern era and a major step towards making commercial electricity from solar power.

The issue of unsteady nature of solar power generation was resolved by injecting the generated energy to a grid already supplied with steady power from a conventional power generator in On grid technology. Supplying the solar power for charging a battery bank which would supply it back as AC power through an inverter for driving the load was also pursued as Off – grid solar technology. A combination of both known as Hybrid Technology is also in currency. Each of the above technologies is unique in its own way which demands special skill set to handle each of them.

ENMOST, your solar power partner has the ability to serve any of these technologies to you with perfection and finesse owing to the rich experience and expertise of its team members in all the three modes.

We also keep updating and upgrading our knowledge base to provide you the latest in the field. BESS - Battery Energy Storage System is an evolving technology which facilitates storage of generated energy in the battery bank and releases it to the load as programmed is an evolving technology. We have tied up with reputed international brands for technical assistance and product support.

We are passionate about what we do and take a lot of pride in our work. Quality in what we do and say is our passion and we like to be known that way. Customer is our king and we remain loyal to our king at every point of time.

We envision a society where an individual can generate power from natural sources as he wants and consume it at his will. We engineer this dream to reality. We also need the assistance of committed associates for it. We believe that it is to empower interested associates to translate our vision as facility build up for the needy on the ground. Business associates are welcome to join us in our Enmost Energy Initiative - to share less pain and earn more gain.

Let us join together for an energy rich future!
